Dear Freedom of Information Act Unit:

DC

I am writing in regard to a personal desire which would seem to fall under the Freedom of Information Act. Having been a long-time fan of internationally-renowned singer Bob Marley and an enthusiast of artifacts such as newspaper or magazine clippings which documented his rise to fame, I'd like to request all files and see-also references to him (Robert Nesta Marley being the musician's full name), including a search of both new and older indexes, and the ELSUR index. I understand that gathering this information may be quite the lofty task, but I am willing to pay reasonable costs of up to $20 without additional permission for the deed. If a dated background on the subject of my request is needed, may I present the following; Marley was born February 6, 1945 at Nine Miles, Rhoden Hall, St. Ann's, Jamaica, and died on May 11, 1981. Hopefully, this can assist in searching for materials. Use of any information would be strictly personal; I certainly do not intend to infringe on any existing laws regarding the donated data. Please contact me at

Your new Freedom of Information-Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request for one or more subject matters is being handled in the Request Management Unit of the FOIPA Section.

The Request Management Unit has a tremendous volume of work on hand as a result of several factors beyond our control, including recent widespread publicity about how to make FOIPA requests.

Your request is currently unassigned. We are critically understaffed and are unable to complete the initial search and review of files in a timely manner to determine whether or not we have records responsive to your request. We will contact you again when further action has been taken on your request. In view of our current workload, you may expect a delay of several months. In the interim, we solicit your patience and cooperation.
